

Laurie Aaron

Ms. Laurie Aaron is Director of Strategic Sales for Quantum Secure Corporation. Quantum Secure is an innovative young company, providing software solutions which strongly align with many convergence initiatives facing today's corporate enterprise. A strong proponent of the concept of converging Physical security with Information Technology and Info Security, Ms. Aaron is recognized as a thought leader in the convergence arena. She is a founding member of the Open Security Exchange (OSE), a non-profit industry organization developed to accelerate the convergence of physical security with Information Technology. She has been keenly involved with the OSE since its inception in 2003. Ms. Aaron has over 12 years experience in the physical security industry, previously holding Sales Management rolls at Software House-Tyco, Ingersoll Rand and HID.
