

Daniel A. McGarvey

Mr. Daniel A. McGarvey is assigned to Secretary of the Air Force, office of the Administrative Assistant, in Washington, DC. He is the Director, of Information Protection and is responsible for the policy development, training and oversight of the Air Force's Information, Industrial, and Personnel Security Programs. He chairs the Air Force Security Advisory Group and is the Secretariat for the Air Force Security Policy and Oversight Board. He is the civilian Career Field Manager and Classification Authority for security and is chairman of the Air Force security civilian Development Team and vice chair of the security career field Advisory Council.

Prior to his current assignment, Mr. McGarvey was assigned to the National Reconnaissance Office with duties that included the development of international space security policy; a rotational assignment to the National Security Council as adjunct senior staff supporting both the Joint Security Commission II and the US Security Policy Board; Chair of the Training and Professional Development Committee under the Policy Board; and Chief of the Training and Education Division.

As a career Military Intelligence officer, Mr. McGarvey was cross-trained and assigned in all functional areas. Assignments included a rotational tour as an Infantry Platoon leader followed by intelligence assignments at both the tactical and strategic levels working operational assignments in CONUS and OCONUS.